

A high-angle, slightly blurred photograph of several young children playing hopscotch on an asphalt playground. The children are in motion, jumping over chalk-drawn hopscotch grids. One child in the foreground is a young boy in a white shirt and dark pants, captured mid-jump. Other children in various clothing are visible in the background, also engaged in the activity. The overall scene is bright and active.

TELL OUR KIDS
AIR STANDARDS
DON'T MATTER.

Our kids need President Obama to stand up for them by updating America's smog safety standard. The current standard is outdated and unsafe, putting our children at risk for serious health problems like respiratory infection, asthma attacks and even hospitalizations. Lend your voice at www.LungUSA.org.

AMERICAN LUNG ASSOCIATION®

Fighting for Air

www.LungUSA.org